CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BACK- ING COUNTY-WIDE FAT STOCK SHOW

Some weeks past the Hondo Chamber of Commerce took upon its shoulders the organization of a Boys' Fat Stock Show for Medina County. After several meetings with ranchmen, F. F. A. teachers from D'Hanis, Hondo, Natalia, Devine, and Yancey, and our County Agent, committees were appointed. Such committees were selected by F. F. A. teachers and the county agent, thereby giving the Chamber of Commerce a working personnel from all parts of the county. There remains several committeemen to be named and when the list is complete will be published in this paper.

On Tuesday night, April 15th, the Hondo Chamber of Commerce gave a free barbecue for its members and invited the other Chambers from over the county as well as all committeemen. At the meeting which was held prior to the barbecue, the rules of the coming show were adopted by those present, approximately 150 men from all parts of the county.

The Hondo Chamber of Commerce is proud of the response and enthusiasm shown by our neighbors and although the Medina County Boys' Fat Stock Show is on its own, the Hondo Chamber of Commerce is going to continue doing everything possible to make this a permanent, successful organization.

This Fat Stock Show should be of interest to everyone, as one of the rules is that all calves must be Medina County stock. This means advertising and encouraging the breeding of better stock, giving our boys, the men of tomorrow, encouragement in that vocation in life which is so essential to the defense and success of a nation.

The boys from each Vocational Agriculture class and 4-H Club have already started feeding their calves, sheep, goats, and hogs. It is the duty of every one interested in our Vocational Agriculture work to visit these boys, see their projects and encourage them in this work.

The Hondo Chamber of Commerce greatly appreciates the attendance at its meeting last week. It is hoped that all will work in harmony and next February 13th and 14th see the fruits of their labors. Let's show what Medina County can do.

The organization is also grateful to Rev. A. H. Falkenberg for his kind and helpful remarks at his meeting and appreciate his taking time out to meet with the members. He is a good scout, a good neighbor, and a true friend to all.

Thanks are also extended Frank X. Vance, Edgar Stiegler, Homer Wilson and others who saw to the barbecuing, coffee and to the success of the barbecue; the F. F. A. teachers, county agent, committeemen and members of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce and to those ranchmen who are lending their support in helping the boys secure stock for feeding.

As the work gets under way, the public will be kept informed as to the advancements being made.

BOX SUPPER AND COURT OF HONOR TO BE HELD

HOWARD-BARNES NUPTIALS

A wedding characterized by simplicity and charm was solemnized at the First Methodist Church of Hondo Sunday, April 20, at 6:30 in the evening when Miss Florence Evelyn Barnes, daughter of Mr. Theodore Carothers Barnes and the late Mrs. Barnes, was given in marriage by her father to Earl Winfield Howard, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Winfield Howard Sr., of Pearsall. Rev. Horace M. King of the University of San Antonio performed the marriage rites.

The church was decorated with sword fern and baskets of Easter lilies, white gladioluses, candytuft and larkspur. Miss Fern Ulbrich, dressed in blue net with a corsage of pink rosebuds and blue cornflowers, lighted the white tapers in candelabra at each side of the pulpit. As the guests assembled, Charles Barden of Bryan sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told", accompanied by Mrs. Kemper Fields of Pearsall, who also played the traditional wedding marches. Gounod's "Ave Maria" was played softly during the ceremony. Mrs. Fields was dressed in pink taffeta, and wore white rosebuds and blue cornflowers in her hair.

Mrs. John Earle Barden of Houston attended her sister as matron of honor and Miss Claire Blackaller of Pearsall was the bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in bouffant frocks of mousseline over taffeta. Mrs. Barden in pink and Miss Blackaller in blue. The dresses were designed with tiered skirts and drop shoulder effect achieved with wide French lace. They wore coronets of blue and pink cornflowers and carried colonial bouquets of the cornflowers and pink carnations.

The bride's gown was white marquisette and lace with a simple fitted bodice and tiered skirt. A fingertip veil extended from a tiny hat of white tulle and bows of velvet ribbon, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and stock. Her only ornament, worn on the bodice of her dress, was a brooch of antique gold, which was worn by her mother at her wedding.

Elmer Howard of Gonzales, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and groomsmen were Benton Roberts of Pearsall, John Earl Barden of Houston acted as usher.

A reception for a large group of friends followed the ceremony and was held at the bride's home. In the receiving line were Mr. T. C. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Howard Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Howard Sr. The bridegroom's mother was attired in black sheer with a shoulder corsage of lavender irises. Vases of pink and blue larkspur and pink roses adorned the home. The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth over pink and centered with a crystal bowl of blue and pink delphinium, flanked by crystal candelabra holding white tapers. Miss Faye Howard of Pearsall, sister of the bridegroom, served the wedding cake which was decorated with pink and blue petunias. Mrs. Murf Bledsoe of Port Arthur, also a sister of the bridegroom, poured coffee. Miss Howard was dressed in yellow with a corsage of honeysuckle and blue cornflowers, and Mrs. Bledsoe's frock was pink and her corsage of pink and blue cornflowers. Miss Fern Ulbrich registered the guests in the bride's book.

During the evening, the couple left for a wedding trip to New Orleans, the bride wearing for travel a brown and beige print dress under a matching tweed cape. Her brown straw sailor hat had a flowing brown veil with large beige dots, and she carried a brown and beige Corday bag and long beige gloves. Mr. and Mrs. Howard will be at home in Pearsall.

Out of town guests here for the wedding and reception were as follows: Mrs. Lydia Crain, John Arch Crain, Misses Henrietta Gray and Minda Bellinger of Pleasanton; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Barnes and Faye Jean Barnes, Misses Theresa Louise Knight, Molly Moeder and Annette Moeder of San Antonio; Mrs. W. D. McCauley of Kingsville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barden of Bryan; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Howard and daughters, Fay Dell and Mildred, of Gonzales; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Michael, Misses Blanche Hinds and Gladys Newsom, Mrs. G. A. Newsom, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dawson, Mrs. M. O. Blackaller, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bartram and Johnnie Hinnant, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Howard Sr., Miss Faye Howard, Miss Claire Blackaller, and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Schultz, all of Pearsall; Mrs. J. W. Long, Miss Eva Long, Rev. and Mrs. Horace M. King, and Mr. and Mrs. August Finger, of San Antonio; W. C. Barnes of McAllen, Francis T. Barnes of Austin, and Mr. and Mrs. Murph Bledsoe of Port Arthur.

NEW REA PROJECT WORK STARTED

The Medina Electric Cooperative, Inc., has informed us that for the past two weeks staking procedures for their third section of rural electric distribution lines has been going on. This new section, designated as the "C" Section, is to be built in parts of Frio, LaSalle and Medina Counties.

A branch office has been established in the town of Dilley, Frio County, near which site the construction to serve the new lines will be located. The J. W. Beretta Engineers, Inc., of San Antonio, Texas, who staked and supervised the construction of the B Section, just recently energized, have been employed by the Cooperative to stake and supervise the construction of the lines in Frio and LaSalle Counties.

They have opened office quarters in Dilley, and now have one staking crew working full time, and are planning on starting one or two additional crews within the next week or so. To date, approximately thirty miles of line have already been surveyed—the progress they are making is very fast, due to the fact that a large portion of the lines lies in fields and along roads, thus not necessitating any clearing of trees and brush.

Plans and specifications for the C Section were submitted to the REA offices in Washington some time ago, and as soon as they are approved, bids will be taken by the Cooperative from Electrical Construction Contractors, the contract to be awarded to the lowest bidder.

A rough estimate is that it will be from six weeks to two months before holes will be dug and poles set. But, without any unexpected long delay in the delivery of construction hardware and conductors, it should be only a few months before the Medina Electric Cooperative, Inc., will have made Electricity available to a around two hundred and fifty more rural homes.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

You will tune in every once in a while and get somebody who is saying he is talking in simple language so everybody will understand him, or he is talking to the plain people. I have always sort of wondered to myself if he could maybe be referring to me. I am not so extra sure whether it would be a compliment or if it might cast some doubt on my I Q. The more I think about it, the more dubious I become.

I was talking to Henry about it—Henry lives across the street—and I says, "Henry, who are these plain people, anyway?"

There is one thing you can say for Henry, he is polite, so he says, "Jo, the best thing for you to do is look it up in the dictionary." I did so. My dictionary says, plain people are more or less homely people—unlearned—lowly.

Brother, the next gent who starts his palaver about addressing himself in plain language to the plain people, is gonna get tuned-out—and pronto.
Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

HELP CONTROL UNIVERSAL ENEMY

The city of Savanna, Illinois, has announced an interesting and worthwhile plan for observing the 75th anniversary of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which takes place next May.

This anniversary does not honor a commercial institution. The National Board is strictly non-profit making. Its whole purpose is to fight and prevent fire, to make our homes, our industries, our farms and our people safe from fire. Its work, as a result, is directly in the interest of all.

Savanna plans to use the anniversary as a means of arousing public interest in fire prevention problems. Its celebration will start with a parade. Newspapers will run fire prevention material and solicit special advertisements during the week. Fire prevention slides will be used in theatres. Leaflets will be distributed. Insurance agents and members of the fire department will give talks in schools and before civic clubs. The whole point of the local campaign will be to give every citizen some instruction in the menace of fire and how it may be controlled.

Programs such as this could be adopted to the needs and facilities of every community in the country—the little towns no less than the larger cities. Fire prevention is largely a local matter. To be successful, it needs public understanding and enthusiasm. It must be brought home to all, that fire is every man's enemy and every man's problem. And all must realize that every man's aid is needed if fire is to be controlled and conquered.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters, 85 John Street, New York, will give valuable aid and information to individuals, organizations and all communities which are interested in fighting this ancient enemy of life and property.—Industrial News Review.

GUARD FARM INDEPENDENCE

Address the Northwestern Dairy Conference, Dr. H. C. Byrd, president of the University of Virginia, warned leaders of marketing cooperatives and other farm organizations of the danger of too much agricultural regulation by government.

"I do not think the government should be used to unify farm efforts in any direction," said Dr. Byrd, "if such unification can be achieved through farmers' own voluntary efforts."

Excessive government regulation has made rubber stamps of the owners and managers of many industries. The same thing can happen to the farmer if he looks to Washington and the state capitals every time some problem presents itself. Political power tends always to increase, never to lessen.

Farmers, through such organizations as the marketing cooperatives, can solve most of their problems for themselves. Government should be called in only as a last resort. Otherwise, our vaunted farm independence will gradually vanish.—Industrial News Review.

BUILDING AIRPLANES

The present state of airplane production in the United States reminds one of attempting to put out a fire with a garden hose.

We need planes by the thousands and yet we are producing them in hundreds. It was stated in the press that January aircraft production has surpassed expectations with the production of from nine hundred to a thousand planes including every type from the small fighters to a few sorely needed bombers.

With twenty-two working days in January this means approximately five and one-half planes per hour was the output of the entire military aircraft industry. Millions of dollars worth of aircraft have been contracted for with various aircraft manufacturers. The chances of these orders being filled in a reasonable time seem slim to those who understand the aircraft industry.

The production of military aircraft in the United States has been a custom business growing out of competition in aeronautical engineering. The army and navy have been independent of each other in their ideas of aircraft design. Each has felt that specific essentials were necessary to comply with the needs of the particular type of fighting that would be carried on by the craft. For the past several years the navy has concentrated on flying boats, particularly of the patrol type. While it is true this branch of service has produced other types of ships, the flying boat has received the dominant position. The army, as we all know, has concentrated on "flying fortresses." Recently the aircraft has been making headline news. Actually the history of military aircraft production in the United States shows a record of outstanding engineering achievement so far as design is concerned but production has been on a custom basis. Aircraft has been handled in one of two ways: either the government engineers designed the craft and had one built to specifications, or the manufacturer submitted a design to the government engineers. After one plane was built the government tested it carefully. Those which indicated outstanding progress were considered worthy of further attention for combat purposes. Perhaps twenty or fifty such planes were ordered and added to our air power. As much as two years was often consumed by this process. Obviously new inventions and advances would render these craft obsolete before any quantity would be built. The result was a few of these and a few of those, but no great quantity of either.

That production tools and equipment for large quantities were not available was indicated by General Arnold, chief of the Air Corps, at 1941 appropriation hearings when he indicated that greater production was increasing the cost of aircraft rather than lowering the costs, as would be the case where the principles of production tooling could be applied.

An airplane is not difficult to manufacture accurately in large quantities. It is primarily a metal structure with a metal skin. The difficulties of manufacture are less than those of a properly built farm tractor. It would be possible for a properly equipped production plant to turn out one bomber per hour. The whole industry has been struggling to turn out one per day on a consistent basis.

America once turned her plowshares into swords—now it's time to turn her automobiles into airplanes. The automotive production line methods must be turned loose on our aircraft production problem. It is the only sure means of securing the thousands of planes quickly needed to meet the needs of democracy at home and abroad. One plant could produce more bombers per day than our present or anticipated production of all types of aircraft.

A sample of Tenmarq wheat grown by J. D. Wilbanks of Hansford County, Texas, recently won first prize in competition with the entire United States and Canada in the milling and baking contest at the International Grain and Hay Show at Chicago. In the same contest samples entered by three other Hansford County growers, W. F. C. Eling, George Stewart and R. C. Chase placed sixth, eleventh, and fifteenth, respectively. These four samples were the only ones entered from Hansford County and the fact that all won a place in the show in the face of the toughest sort of competition shows the high quality of the wheat. The wheat improvements program started in the county three years ago is bearing fruit.

BOLIVAR JONES SPEAKING

'Gainst windows a North River gale is beating
An ariel squadron of war-chariot scythes
An alien enemy unprovoked invasion is completing
To collect from dead men unjust tithes.

The helpless pay as ever they have and do;
What has always been is gist of the plan,
Inscrutable, unreasonable to me and to you,
The fat Ram safe, others do the best they can.

I, Bolivar Jones, sit indoors, snug and tight,
There are no problems pressing me hard;
While the poor Bum shivers in flop-house plight—
Award to him: He is bound heavenward.

His troubles serve for pre-election time screech
Of the wily politician's crocodile tears
Who has fixed his own beyond danger and need;
So it has been throughout mundane years.

Myself am all fixed with tax exempt security
So I can moralize comfortably and snug—
Renewable far beyond earthly maturity,
I am self-righteous as any bug in a rug.

On a lonely hill night winds moaned shrill and sharp
A homeless Dog sole mourner's vigil kept;
Man's law vindicated in human fabric and warp
While the likes of me serenely slept.

A thief on either side, "convicted" by the same court Hung there unfriended: The time-tragic Three;
Now, Jenkins, "My Man", may be of the same sort,
But not Bolivar Jones of tax exempt security.

HEIRLOOMS

By Grace E. Skinner

The last to go was great Aunt Sue
Now there is no one there
But on the parlor wall still hangs
The wreath she made of hair.

Spread all around are hand made rugs
Of intricate design
And on the beds are rainbow quilts
With rows of stitches fine.

Ancestral silver brightly gleams
Within a cupboard there
The crystal too, her joy and pride,
And treasured willow ware.

Her girlhood dreams and future hopes
Were woven round each one,
And when those failed, came memories,
Until her work was done.

And who shall say 'twas wasted time
If, when night's shadows fell,
Achievement brought her sweet content
A sense of work done well.

WHITE PLUM BLOSSOMS OF CHU FOU

Filling the air with fragrance,
Lavender, white and pink,
With a light hint of insouciance
Near to the river's brink.

There was our place of meeting
Only a short time past,
Poignantly sweet was our greeting
It was too dear to last.

Your spirit will be returning
Lingering by that tree,
Deeply have I been learning
You are the one for me.
Mauve, rose and white leaves falling,
Bury my griefs with charm,
Come, my heart is recalling
That you kept me from harm.

Chin Fou sleeps near the plum tree,
He was so strong and wise.
His life will ever teach me
Also your deep blue eyes.

Shipments of eggs from Texas chicken farms during November climbed to 77 cars, five times the 15 cars shipped in November a year ago. Turkey shipments dropped from 590 cars in November, 1939, to only 556 cars in November, 1940, though movement of chickens almost tripled.

IN SPITE OF THE FACT—

In spite of winter's warning
That he's headed down our way
To chill the bones of all of us
With days so cold and gray,
I cannot help but noting that
Our English sparrow nest
Is gayly gathering straws again
To build another nest!

He doesn't dread what has to be
Though he is poor and humble.
He knows that life is here to face—
Whoever heard him grumble?

—MARY LARKIN COOKE.

TURNING POINT

The skies hung heavy
And life was drear;
Hope was forgotten,
Fate seemed severe.

But you came smiling,
Kind touched my hand,
Spoke words of comfort—
I lived again.

Each State Has Share In Benefits From 8 Years of Legal Beer Sales

BEER, re-legalized by Congress as a spark to revive industry when business was at its lowest ebb, will have its eighth birthday on April 7, and every state in the Union will share as a direct beneficiary.

With the re-legalization of beer, treasurers poured millions of dollars into orders for farm products, construction, equipment, transportation and labor.

A survey shows that every state in the Union has shared in supplying these products—raw and finished—and services. The Pacific Coast states furnish hops, barley and rice. The great Midwest supplies barley, corn, and industrial equipment used in brewing. Rocky Mountain states furnish some of the metals for cooperage, containers, equipment and machinery.

Southern and southwestern states furnish much of the oil for fuel and lubrication, white oak for wooden barrels and rice for brewing. Eastern and Great Lakes states supply most of the brewing machinery, equipment and motor trucks.

Northern and Southern states supply lumber and pulp wood for boxes, cartons and paper products, while many of the states furnish the material for bottles and glasses, coal for heat and power, reasins for pitch, and scores of other products used in the manufacture and distribution of beer and ale. The nation's network of railroad and motor transport carries material to the breweries and beer and ale to the consumer.

In addition, each state is participating in revenue from beer, both from the economic ramifications of wholesale and retail distributor and from the public revenues, much of which has been earmarked for the support of educational and welfare activities.

Beer's economic benefits have, in eight years, aggregated 13 billion dollars, of which $2,800,000,000 has been devoted to the public revenues, and $725,000,000 for farm products. In addition more than a billion dollars has been spent for machinery, approximately seven billion dollars for local business, more than a half-billion for transportation, fuel and power and hundreds of millions more for building, advertising and other purposes. All of this has resulted in direct and indirect employment for more than one million persons, with payrolls aggregating close to a billion dollars.

An epidemic of mumps is on this community, several children were out of school last week.

THE RECORD... Facts That Concern You

No. 27 of 6

ONE SOUR NOTE... but it's a great orchestra nevertheless

Even a great orchestra will make a musical mistake once in a while. And once in a while... out of the thousands of decent, law-abiding beer retailers in Texas... you'll come across one or two who operate disreputable establishments.

These "black sheep" retailers constitute a tiny minority. Yet they tend to drag down the good name of beer.

By arousing public indignation, such undesirable retailers endanger your right to enjoy good beer. They also endanger the benefits to the public that beer has made possible.

For example, in Texas beer has created 31,165 new jobs with an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and paid $2,273,968.64 in taxes last year.

The brewing industry wants "black sheep" retailers eliminated entirely. You can help us by patronizing only the reputable, legal places where beer is sold. And by reporting irregularities to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

The Hondo Lions Club met at Kramer's Coffee Shop last Wednesday noon. President W. B. Meyer read a letter from Congressman Milton H. West saying that Hondo is eligible for a Federal building but that funds are not available at this time, and Hondo will be placed on the waiting list. Matters concerning the opening of a railroad crossing one block west of the depot were discussed and a committee will consult with railroad company officials at some future date.

R. C. Rath, Secretary of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce, was a recent San Antonio visitor at which time he called on T. J. Turner, Secretary of the Better Business Bureau and Vigilance Committee. He secured many interesting tips on "rackets" which all Chambers of Commerce should warn business men and merchants against. Some of the rackets are presented under the guise of charity, war relief and legitimate advertising, and vigilance on the part of the Chamber of Commerce will save both money and face for many who might otherwise be taken in by high pressure salesmanship. The Hondo Chamber of Commerce will receive from the Committee its monthly bulletin, "Rackets", which will keep them posted on how to protect local business.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey and home a few miles south of Hondo.

Mr. Bailey has the beginning of a new commercial enterprise under way at his place and was here to supervise work on it. He is undertaking to build a frog farm and already has several ponds built and stocked with ten of the large frogs of the type used for frog-legs, a table delicacy.
Smaller tanks are used for raising tadpoles and for growing food in the form of small fish and angle worms for the frogs. There is also quite a variety of water vegetation growing in the ponds. It is an interesting experiment and one with commercial possibilities. Mr. and Mrs.
Grayford Rogers are making their home in a small cottage on the premises and Mr. Rogers is in charge of the project in Mr. Bailey's ab-

HENS NOW LAY EGGS TO ORDER

Research Reveals Through Control Feeding Poultry Raiser Can Get Egg Quality Wanted.

The housewife who has a backyard flock can have her eggs to order, according to C. S. Johnson, head of the Poultry Department of the Purina Mills. He points out that the backyard hen can be made to lay eggs with the uniform light lemon-yellow yolks which stand up high and round, in the center of thick, clear whites. The eggs will have that delicate, rich flavor, that go so far beyond mere freshness. They will be made richer in vitamins, too.

POOR QUALITY EGG (THIN, FLAT)

PREMIUM QUALITY EGG (FIRM, UPSTANDING)

"Kitchen testing has brought out a marked difference in the quality of eggs," says Johnson. "Any housewife knows that eggs having a superior body of white give an added rise, fluffiness and smoothness to the body of a cake. She knows, too, that quality of eggs shows up in many other ways of cooking. Take poached eggs, for instance. Those with thin whites separate from the yolks and about all that is left are poached yolks. When the eggs have thick whites, clinging to the yolk, there is a globular, meaty portion of poached white around the yolk—a pleasing, appetizing appearance."

Quality Determined Before Laying

In discussing the matter of getting hens to lay eggs to order, Johnson says it's a matter of controlling the feeding of hens. He adds, "The real quality of an egg is determined before it is laid. If the hen doesn't get in her feed just what is needed to build a quality egg, you simply cannot expect the production of a quality egg. Frankly, if you want your hen to lay eggs to order, you have to give them the things in their feed to make eggs accordingly."

"After years of research at the Purina Experimental Farm, testing this and that ingredient, a combination has been developed that gives hens what they need to lay eggs to order. The yolks are light lemon-yellow and stand up high and round in the center of thick, clear whites. Not only are they rich in vitamins but they have a delicate, rich flavor when served."

"This special feed to get hens laying eggs to order, called Layena, is an all-in-one feed. Nothing else is needed. Just this complete feed and water. Contrary to what might be expected, it does not cost any more to feed hens on this special feed. As a matter of fact, considering the quality of the eggs and the increase in the number of eggs produced by the feed, it really costs less."

VITAMIN DISCOVERY TO HELP CHICK LIFE

Entire Carload of Carrots Needed to Make One and a Half Barrels of New Vital Ingredient.

Again science throws out a "life-line" to baby chicks. It comes through the discovery of Puratene, a new ingredient that's extremely rich in vitamin A, the "disease resistance" vitamin.

"So rich in vitamin A is this ingredient, Puratene, that an entire carload of carrots is required to make one and one-half barrels," says C. S. Johnson, head of the Poultry Department of the Purina Mills. He adds, "One pound of Puratene contains as much vitamin A activity as 750 pounds of yellow corn meal, which up to this year has been considered one of the richest sources of vitamin A."

Vital to Chick Life and Growth

In speaking about the vital need of vitamin A for the life and growth of chicks, Johnson says, "An absolute lack of vitamin A will result in chick death. Partial lack of vitamin A causes growth to be retarded, eye trouble to develop, and makes the chick easily susceptible to disease and infection. Poultry raisers should make sure that an abundance of vitamin A is in their chick starter."

- (1) To insure maximum growth and development.
- (2) To build a strong, healthy digestive tract so that the chick can make complete use of the feed it eats.
- (3) To build resistance to disease germs and infection."

Poultry raisers who see to it that their chick startens this spring is rich in vitamin A are going to see a difference in the livability, growth and development, according to Johnson. He points out that the surest and safest way of giving chicks an abundance of vitamin A is to make sure that Puratene, the new concentrated vitamin A discovery, is one of the ingredients which their chicks' starter contains.

The 1941 spring edition of the Texas Highway map issued by the Texas Highway Department is now available to the public. The cover of the spring edition is a natural color photograph picture showing a sunrise on the Gulf Coast of Texas, and the new map shows all State highways, cities and towns, and, as with every issue of the map, shows that pavement has been placed on many unpaved gaps since the last map was issued in the spring of 1940. Features of the 1941 spring edition map are the new Federal census figures for Texas cities and towns. Shown on the map itself are oil and gas regions, national forests, and principal lakes and streams. Inserts around the map show in larger scale the routes into and thru larger cities. On the back is a brief description of State parks, and other attractions; facts about Texas, and interesting

Resort Velveteen

As cotton velveteens reach the peak of their winter popularity, this desert tan hollow-cut velveteen coat is making its appearance at Southern resort centers. It is worn here over a printed dress in complimentary shades. The matching bag is also made of hollow-cut velveteen.

pictures of industry and development in the State. The data includes comparative distance showing that it is farther between some cities in Texas than from the same cities to Los Angeles, Chicago, and Jacksonville on the Atlantic Ocean. The Highway Department constantly strives to improve the map, and this edition is the most complete map yet issued. While new paving is shown, it is impossible, of course, to indicate on the map the many miles of old type paving on which reconstruction, improvement and modernization has been done. The map is free to the public and copies may be obtained by writing the State Highway Department at Austin, or any of its District Offices.

A composite index of Texas business compiled from six major industries—employment, payrolls, miscellaneous freight carloadings, runs of crude oil to stills, department store sales and electric power consumption—is 10 points higher than in January, 1940. These industries all showed substantial gains: employment, up 6.6 points; payrolls, up 6.8 points; freight carloadings, up 7.9 points; crude runs, up 12.8 points; department store sales, up 4.5 points; electric power consumption, up 17.6 points. Many other Texas business factors charted showed gains over January, 1940: Passenger car sales—up 39 per cent. Commercial car sales—up 43.4 per cent. Southern pine—production up 34 per cent, shipments up 53.4 per cent; unfilled orders at the month-end up 50.2 per cent. Cement—production up 47 per cent; shipments up 76.2 per cent; stocks down 15.7 per cent. Postal receipts—up almost 10 per cent. A few unfavorable trends were noted, however: Charters—80, down 44.1 per cent from January, 1940; capitalization, $958,000, down 53.4 per cent. Commercial failures—35, up 34.6 per cent; liabilities, $305,000, up 16.4 per cent. Building permits—down 11.8 per cent. Purchases of savings bonds—down 18.1 per cent.

Destined for the nation's dinner tables, a total of 56 carloads of Texas-raised chickens was shipped in January, compared to 31 cars in January, 1940, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has announced. These fowl went to 12 states, New York taking 19 cars, New Jersey 16. Thirteen cars of turkeys were also "exported" from Texas, the same number as in January a year ago. Shipments of eggs to other states likewise climbed, from 31 cars in January, 1940, to 83 cars in January, 1941.

Rail oddities

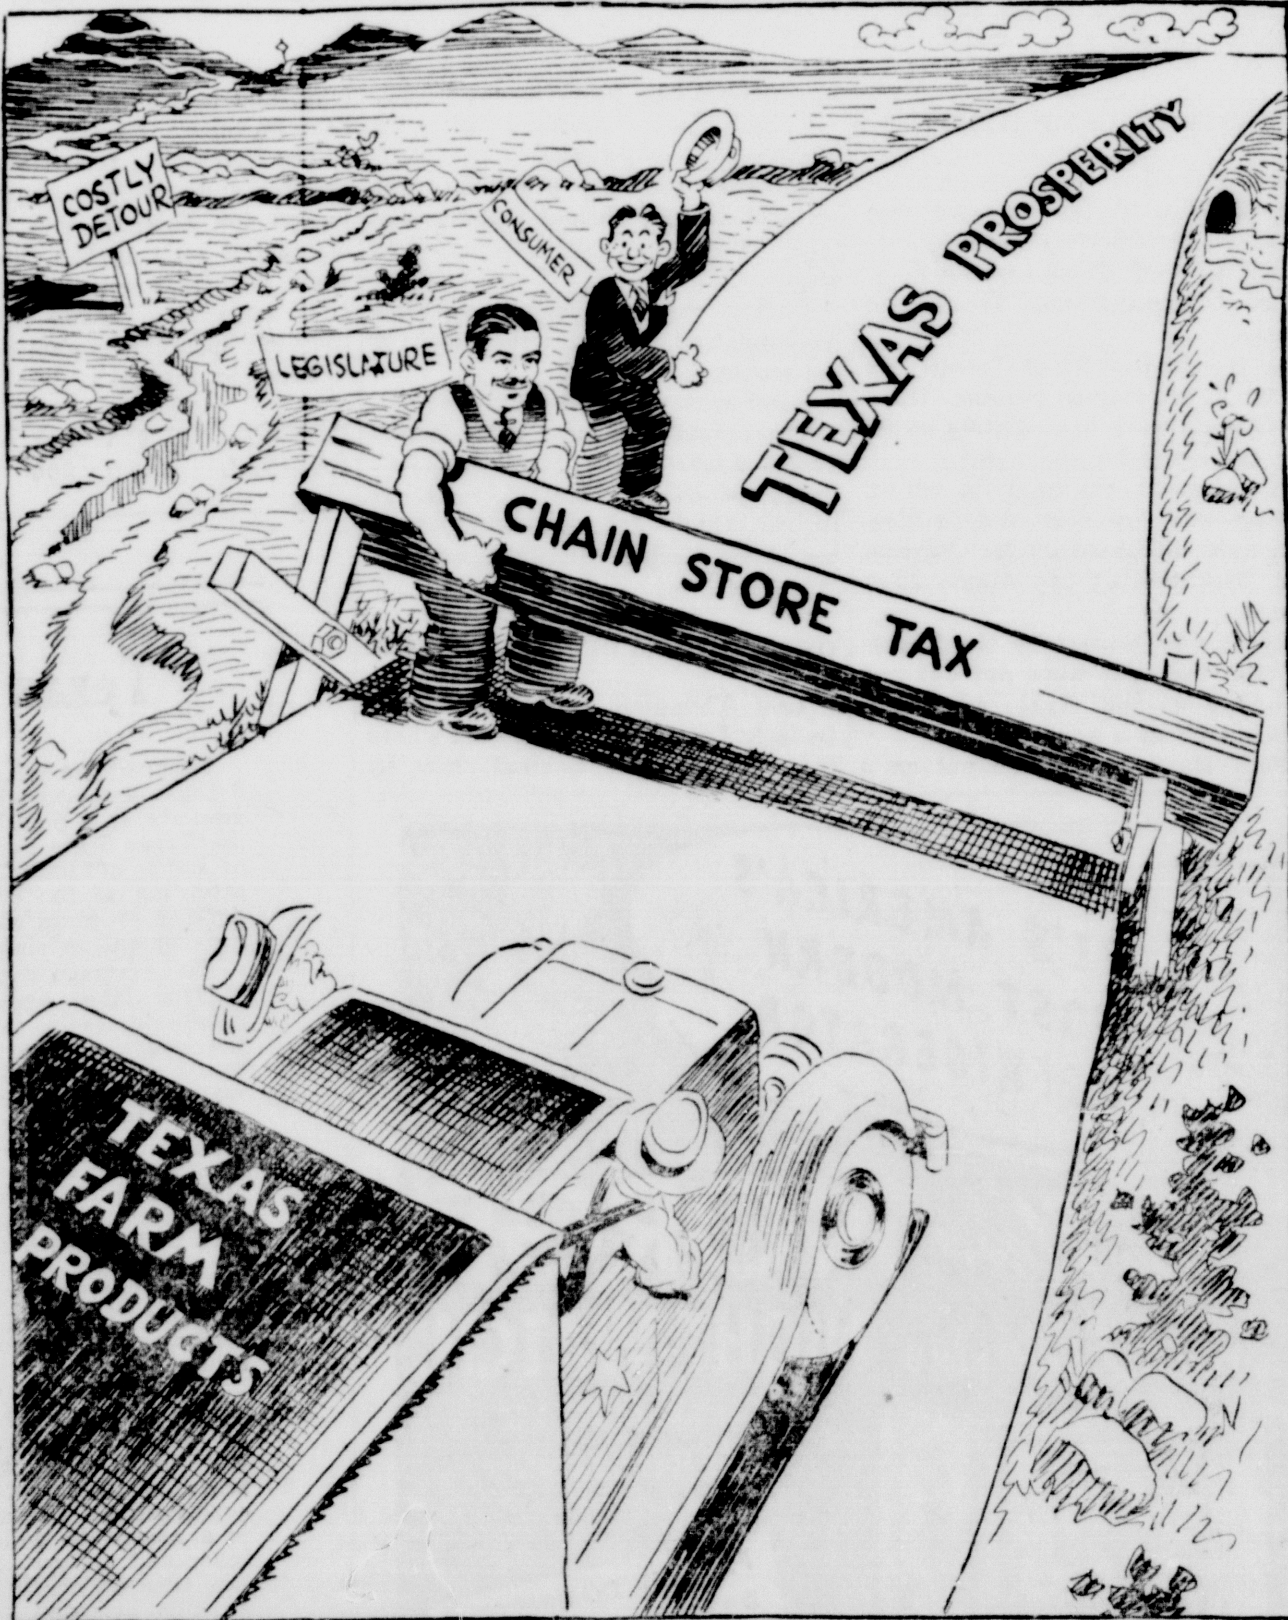

TO AN OIL REFINERY FRACTIONATING COLUMN, OR "BUBBLE" TOWER, GOES THE HONOR OF BEING THE HEAVIEST PIECE OF FREIGHT EVER MOVED BY THE RAILROADS. IT WEIGHED 488,200 POUNDS AND WAS SHIPPED IN 1938.

SINCE 1923, THE RAILROADS HAVE PUT IN SERVICE 1,147,000 NEW FREIGHT CARS AND 17,000 NEW LOCOMOTIVES. COUPLED TOGETHER, THEY WOULD MAKE A TRAIN NEARLY 10,000 MILES LONG.

THE FIRST RAILROAD BRIDGE ACROSS THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER WAS OPENED IN 1856 AT DAVENPORT, IOWA. THE 1582-FOOT STRUCTURE WAS MAILED AS THE MECHANICAL WONDER OF THE WEST.

A FOUNDING FATHER OF PREPAREDNESS.

HIS GIN HAD MADE COTTON KING—BUT PAID HIM NOTHING TILL YEARS LATER, IN 1812.

BACK IN NEW HAVEN HE GOT SOME FRIENDS TO INVEST, AND BUILT A FACTORY FOR ANOTHER PURPOSE. IT SEEMED A FLAT FAILURE, BUT EVENTUALLY HIS INITIATIVE, PATIENCE AND ENTERPRISE PROVED OUT.

IN THIS FACTORY MASS PRODUCTION—INTERCHANGEABLE PARTS—FOUNDATION STONES OF MODERN INDUSTRY AND TODAY'S NATIONAL DEFENSE WERE BOTH DEVELOPED BY ELI WHITNEY.— BY 1806 HE PRODUCED 10,000 MUSKETS WITH EACH LOCK, STOCK AND BARREL INTERCHANGEABLE.

WOMAN'S WORK IN THE U.S.A.

FOR YEARS ABOUT THE ONLY PAID OCCUPATIONS FOR WOMEN WERE SEWING—HOUSEWORK,—MINDING CHILDREN,—AND TENDING FACTORY MACHINES.

TODAY—CLOSED FIELDS ARE VERY FEW.

MANY IN GOVERNMENT,—MANY IN SCIENCE,—TENS OF THOUSANDS IN BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY, THE ARTS, NURSING, TEACHING,—7500 WOMEN DOCTORS,—MORE THAN 3400 WOMEN LAWYERS,—MORE THAN 4000 WOMEN AS EXECUTIVES AND AGENTS IN LIFE INSURANCE,—MORE THAN 5000 WOMEN AUTHORS.

SUBSERVIENT IN CENTRAL EUROPE—BUT THROUGHOUT THIS COUNTRY WOMEN AND GIRLS HAVE ACHIEVED DISTINCTION IN THE ARTS, SCIENCE, ECONOMICS AND POLITICS WHILE RETAINING THEIR OLD SUPREMACY IN THE HOME.
